light's menagerie of dreams of portals to a fountain flowing colors to our years, such in patterns,
that they sculpture,
bluish frost upon our eyes
as the cylinder is twisted and the hourglass upturned,
the minutes that we worship lay scattered on the ground.

KALEIDOSCOPE

We, the members of the Ewing High School Graduating Class of 1965, have selected Kaleidoscope as the theme of our CLEPSYDRA. Recognizing change as a constant factor in our lives, we feel that the Kaleidoscope with its variety of patterns and vibrant colors best represents our three years at Ewing High.

As the designs in the kaleidoscope are always distinct, so are the days at Ewing. When we entered the doors of our high school for the first time as sophomores, we were uncertain what the future would hold. Our view was dark until the teaching and the guidance of the faculty and administration provided illumination and focus for our kaleidoscope.

The many varied segments of life at Ewing have blended to form us, the Class of 1965. As we turn our kaleidoscope, these segments separate, and we see the lasting friendships we have formed . . . the thrill of our victories . . . the disappointment of our defeats . . . the pride of accomplishment in our studies, and the rich and rewarding social experiences gained through school functions. The many aspects of our high school years have enabled us to learn, to grow in understanding, to experience responsibility, and to attain happiness.

During the past three years, our growth and development as individuals have increased as our world has enlarged and become more complex. CLEPSYDRA is our mirrored image of the past three years, and the bright colors of our enriching experiences, captured for us between the covers of a single volume.

ADMINISTRATION

The Administration and Faculty wish to express to you, the Class of 1965, their appreciation for the many hours of pleasure we have derived from your presence, and we trust that the things you have learned these past three years will assist each of you in a much more rewarding life. The unusual ingenuity of certain members of your class certainly will be remembered by everyone. Your spirit and enthusiasm in support of student activities have assisted greatly in making them a success. Your efforts as participants in all the extra curricular activities have indicated that you are a group with exceptional talents in a number of areas. May the successes of your high school careers assist all of you in leading very successful and happy lives.

FACULTY

These are the unforgettable faces of our faculty, unforgettable in their spirit, in their patience, and in their ability. By both daily lesson and personal example, they prepare us to participate in the world beyond high school. They pass over our immaturity in an effort to show us a more realistic way. They are the constants in the experimentation that makes up a high school education.

These men and women, their ideas and knowledge, their mannerisms and attitudes form an inseparable part of the spirit of Ewing High School. Through the process of evaluating our school this year, we have come to appreciate more completely the loyalty, friendship, and hard work put forth by our teachers.

The Class of 1965 is especially grateful to these fifteen homeroom teachers who have worked with us for three years, helping to make our social functions successful and providing the orientation point of our high school experience.

As sophomores, our first duty was to draw up a class constitution, aided by our advisors, Mrs. Kramli and Mr. Piffath. In December, our candy sale brought us a total profit of $1,400.00 for our class treasury. Our Sophomore Hop took place on April 10, 1964, "In The Still of the Night." Musical atmosphere was provided by "The Emeralds."

Junior year plunged us into the all-important magazine drive, in which we grossed $7,400.00. Preparations then began for our dazzling Junior Prom, held on January 15, 1965. Kirk Nurock and Co. supplied a romantic background for this "Crystal Cotillion."

In March, our rings arrived—the sign that we were on the verge of becoming seniors. This event was especially exciting, since ours is the first class to alter the style of the traditional Ewing rings.

Now we are about to become seniors, and we are grateful for the guidance and understanding which have encouraged our every venture.

As the class of 1967, we entered the doors of Ewing High School finding ourselves in a refreshing new world of education and allied activities. Our "Salesmanship" was very prevalent during the first few months of school, displaying our first role as the Class of '67. Selling candy and selling tickets for the All-School Play proved to be our two biggest projects.

The most exciting event of the year was, of course, our Sophomore Hop. Our hard work was rewarded by a beautifully decorated cafeteria which made it an even more outstanding evening for all.

Our first year at Ewing was indeed an enriching experience with moments we shall always cherish in our hearts. We look forward with great anticipation to our next two years at Ewing and the responsibilities they will bring.

LITERARY STAFF

The Clepsydra Staff, consisting of editors, Literary Staff, and Art Staff, works diligently throughout the year to put into the yearbook the memories that will be cherished throughout one's life. Each editor cooperates with a member of the Art Staff, which is directed by Mr. Lawrence Mulligan, in designing the page lay-outs, and the members of the Literary Staff assist in the composition of the copy.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Pete Gill
President

Jill Angelini
Recording Secretary

Annelle Darby
Corresponding Secretary

The Student Council, advised by Mrs. Bilbee, is a body of elected student leaders serving as the government of the entire student body. It is a member of the New Jersey Association of High School Councils and for the past three years has been cited as an Honor Council by this organization. The Student Council advances a spirit of good will between faculty and students and promotes the general welfare of the student body through its various activities. To serve as a guideline for carrying out Council duties and as a goal for all the students, a theme has been established for the year 1964-1965—"RESPONSIBILITY AND SPIRIT—THE KEY TO A DYNAMIC FUTURE FOR YOU AND YOUR SCHOOL."

FORENSIC CLUB

OFFICERS

This year's officers include Gene Hall, president; Steve Picco, vice-president; Roni Schwartz, corresponding secretary; Rich Forer, treasurer; Naomi Bloom, recording secretary; Carolyn Gill, historian; Claudia Engelman, recording secretary.

The Ewing High School Forensic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Updike, is the largest all-time chapter in the South Jersey District of the National Forensic League. The speech activities include after-school tournaments, debating, and service. Students can participate in discussion, poetry reading, oratorical declamation, humorous interpretation, dramatic interpretation, original oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. Outstanding participation in the three yearly Student Congresses is recognized by special awards and election to the National Student Congress. District Tournament is competition in many categories and recognition may be won by winning trophies, medals, and a chance in the National Tournament. Ewing's Chapter belongs to the National Forensic League and New Jersey Forensic League.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

STAFF

For the first time in the history of Ewing High School, the Ewing Highlights, under the direction of Miss Gardner and Miss Symons, published an issue on the opening day of school. The number of publications increased this year from seven to ten, or one each month. In October, the Highlights sponsored Ewing's first Hootenanny. Membership is open to all interested students, and non-staff contributions such as editorials, creative writings, and news stories are welcomed. The Highlights is a member of both the Columbia Press Association and the Scholastic Press Association of New Jersey.

EDITORS

JOURNALISM CLUB

The Journalism Club meets twice a week during the 5C period. Under the direction of Miss Susan Gardner and Miss Mary Anne Symons, Highlights advisors, club members are introduced to the basic concepts of modern journalism, and the problems of publishing a high school newspaper. If their schedule allows, staff members or those wanting to join the staff are encouraged to participate in either club.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is a service organization working for the betterment of home, school, and community, and the development of the initiative and leadership of an individual. The members are selected on a basis of their leadership qualities and their citizenship.

OFFICERS

This year the officers are: John Herz, president; Frank Vizzini, vice-president; Frank Flacks, recording secretary; Dave Cohen, treasurer; John Lucas, chaplain; Sheldon Berkman, District Treasurer; Steve Picco, corresponding secretary; Pete Gill, Lieutenant-Governor; and Steve Taylor, publicity chairman.

FRESCOS EDITORIAL BOARD

The purpose of Frescos is to encourage creative expression in all students in Ewing High School, and to provide an appropriate showcase for the work of students with exceptional ability. It welcomes contributions in the area of the short story, poetry, and the essay. It is hoped that in the near future, recognition may be given to outstanding work by students in the field of art. All selections are submitted to an editorial board consisting of three faculty members and nine students, three from each grade level. The advisers are Mr. Maloney, Mrs. Pulsifer, and Mrs. Sylvester, and the present board consists of Bob Nardoni, Art McTighe, Terri Cader, Dolores DeFort, Nancy Dresser, Diane Berkowitz, JoAnne Fenton, Bob Friedman, and Barbara Potts.

CLASSICA SOCIETAS

JUNIORS AND SENIORS

Officers include: Kathy Schaper, consul; Diane Roberts, pro-consul; Peggy Brink, aedile; Barbara Menard, Matt Cohen, quaestor; Mark Jones, pontifex maximus; Dolores DeFort, scriba; Carol Berkelhammer, historica; and Rich Forer, legatus.

The Classica Societas, commonly referred to as the Latin Club, exists for the purpose of promoting an interest in the study of Latin and in exploring the culture of the Romans. The activities of the club, under the direction of Mrs. Dunphey, include a Saturnalia Festival at Christmastime, a Roman banquet, a slave auction, a Latin newspaper, and yearly trips to the state and national conventions. Ewing High's Latin Club is a member of the State and National Junior Classical Leagues, as well as the A.P.S.L. National Honor Society.

SOPHOMORES

FRENCH CLUB

French Club meets monthly to give students practice in conversation, conducting meetings, and presenting skits in French. Songs, slides, and reports are presented to learn more of the culture of the French Nation. Other activities include sending Christmas gifts to a French student confined to bed, and contributing to Student Ambassador with proceeds from a Bake Sale.

The officers this year are Linda Newtret, president; Judy Van Horn, vice-president; and Lynn Gansman, secretary-treasurer.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America Club is to promote a better awareness and understanding of the teaching field. Each year members are given the chance to observe a class in any school of their choice in the Ewing area. Movies and speakers from various colleges are also presented for the club's benefit. FTA, a member of the Student New Jersey Education Association, has the following executive committee: Rose Sampson, president; Lynn Williams, vice-president; Shirley Lawrence, treasurer; Margot McCormick, recording secretary; Susi Wombwell, corresponding secretary; and Jane Doolittle, historian.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Future Homemakers Club has a threefold purpose. It attempts to instill a deeper appreciation and interest in homemaking, it aims to help others who are less fortunate, and it lends its aid to other school activities and clubs. The club has donated Thanksgiving baskets to needy families, has entertained at St. James Day Nursery, and has helped at Parkway Nursing Home. Officers are: Karla Raywood, president; and Marie Argust, vice-president.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The Future Business Leaders of America Club is a group of students interested in business as a profession. Some of the various activities of the club include performing secretarial chores for teachers, studying business methods and procedures of particular interest to the club members. The club is under the direction of Mrs. Scheetz.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Newly formed this year under the direction of Mr. George Horsefield, the International Relations Club offers the chance for interested students to increase their knowledge of current world events. Each member is required to keep a folder on a specific area. The club has been represented at the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, the model United Nations and House of Representatives at various colleges. The club has helped students participate in the American High School Exchange Program.

Officers include: Omer Brown, president; Dave Cantor, vice-president; Donna Warren, recording secretary; Terri Cader, corresponding secretary; and Barbara Menard, treasurer.

SENIOR DRAMA CLUB

The Senior Drama Club provides an opportunity for students to enlarge their knowledge of the theater. The club, under the direction of Mrs. Boehme, undertakes a variety of activities, including group readings of current plays followed with discussions of the problems an actor may face.

JUNIOR DRAMA CLUB

The Junior Drama Club, directed by Mr. Maloney, engages in the same sort of activities as does the Senior Drama Club; this is, the members read and discuss plays, thereby enriching their knowledge of the theater.

MATH CLUB I

The Mathematics I Club seeks to stimulate greater interest in math among students, to provide an incentive for the study of math on higher levels, and to reinforce a student's mathematical knowledge. This is accomplished by field trips, weekly projects, and exhibitions. Directed by Mrs. Simone, the club's officers include: Jim Forer, president; Rich Forer, vice-president; Jim Vizzini, treasurer; and Sandy Natuk, secretary.

MATH CLUB II

Under the direction of Mr. Jiras, the Mathematics II Club studies theories of higher mathematics through the challenge of problems and puzzles. The club members also enjoy field trips to nearby industries and colleges. This club is a charter member of Mu Alpha Theta, a national organization for mathematics, and its officers are: Frank Vizzini, president; Marilyn Weiss, vice-president; and Kris Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club is an organization for girls who are interested in promoting school spirit by supporting school functions, especially athletic games. By means of posters and publications, it helps to interest students in the activities of the school, to create an atmosphere of cooperation and loyalty, and to promote student participation. The officers are: Pat Metz, president; Angela Musciente, vice-president; Della Williams, secretary; and Andrea Halko, treasurer.

BOOSTER CLUB

SENIORS

The Booster Club is open to all students. Meetings this year were held after school and anyone wishing to participate by selling refreshments at home football and basketball games could do so. Also initiated under the direction of the club's advisor, Mr. Jack Twitchell, were the very successful bonfires and pep rallies. Officers include: Jim Lawrence, president; Bob Cartlidge, vice-president; Donna Warren, secretary; Ron Pollastrelli, treasurer; Lou Capozzi and Glenn Karr, publicity agents.

PAPERBACK BOOK STORE

Under the direction of Mr. diGeorge, certain students work in Ewing's two-year-old book store, serving the needs of students and faculty with a wide selection of paperback books.

SCHOOL STORE

The School Store, supervised by Mr. Zahler, provides an extremely valuable service to Ewing through the sale of school and gym supplies, candy and snacks. Open before homeroom and directly after school, the store provides convenience and friendly service.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club, under Mr. Horsefield's direction, is open to any students who have interest and proficiency in the game. The top members sometimes participated in interschool contests. The Chess Club is a member of the Delaware Valley Interscholastic League.

GUIDANCE CLUB

The Guidance Club is a service organization which greatly aids the Guidance Department. The members, chosen by the department, assist by filing, typing, arranging displays, and in various other ways. Lynn Yencsik helps in the club's supervision.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

The main purpose of the Library Council is to help in the efficient operation of the library. Under the direction of Miss Sorrentino, a student assistant from the Council signs out books, takes care of passes, and performs various other duties for the benefit of the students who make use of the library. Officers are: Jean Gross, president; Diann Wilson, vice-president; and Dolores DeFort, secretary.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

The Assembly Committee is responsible for helping to select the assembly programs presented for the students' benefit throughout the year. The members also control the lighting and stage equipment used for the various programs.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. Patterson, the Audio-Visual Aids Club is in charge of delivering all the visual aids equipment to be used in the classrooms. In addition to this service, the club also maintains a literature rack and tape library for the use of all students.

FUTURE SECRETARIES OF AMERICA

The purpose of the Future Secretaries Club is to prepare the members for a successful secretarial career after high school, and to give the novice office worker a better understanding of ethical office practices. This club is an infant chapter of the National Secretaries Association. Carol Landefeld is the president of this Trentonette chapter. Officers of the club are: Mary Jane Lambert, president; Serafine Costello, vice-president; Carol Maleski, secretary; Saveria Buttice, treasurer.

EWING ART ASSOCIATION

The Ewing Art Association is a club composed of honor students in art. This organization is of service to the school in preparing scenery for proms or plays and in helping in other school activities. Mr. Mulligan is the advisor of this club.

JUNIOR ART CLUB

The Junior Art Club is an organization meeting once a week for students not able to be scheduled in regular art classes. Directed by Mr. Mulligan, the members do work of special interest to them.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club performs community services, such as working at the New Jersey State Hospital or at the Parkway Nursing Home. The club also makes favors for the elderly people in the Drake Building and for the children in the State Hospital. The club is a member of the Trenton Area Council Red Cross, and its officers include Diann Wilson, president; Janet Saybor, vice-president; and Cindy Wright, secretary.

ARS MEDICA

Ars Medica is an organization for those students who are seriously considering medicine or nursing as a career. Under the direction of Dr. Burroughs, school physician, the students hear guest speakers and see movies on medicine which will help them to know more about the field and its branches. Officers are Mark Jones, president; Shel Berkman, vice-president; and John Herz, secretary-treasurer.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

The Girls' Ensemble, directed by Mr. Lauffer, is a group, meeting before school, composed of those who are not able to fit the Girls' Glee Club into their schedules. The two groups combine for performances at the Mid-Winter Band Concert and the Vocal Concert.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra is a group of experienced players under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Snyder, dedicated to ensemble training of appropriate orchestral literature. Emphasis is placed on perfection of performance and the derived cultural benefits. Academic credits are given for this training and daily rehearsals plus individual practice help to achieve the results heard in public performances. These include the Christmas Festival, the Spring Music and Art Festival, and the Pops Concert. This year the Orchestra was especially honored by an invitation to the Mid-East Instrumental Music Conference in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and many fund-raising projects took place so that the orchestra could make the trip.

CONCERT BAND

The Concert Band, directed by Mr. Lloyd Snyder, is composed of students who play brass, woodwind, or percussion instruments. Like the Orchestra, they meet daily, and their training is geared to performance achievement. The group performs for concerts throughout the year, including the Mid-Winter Band Concert.

CHORUS

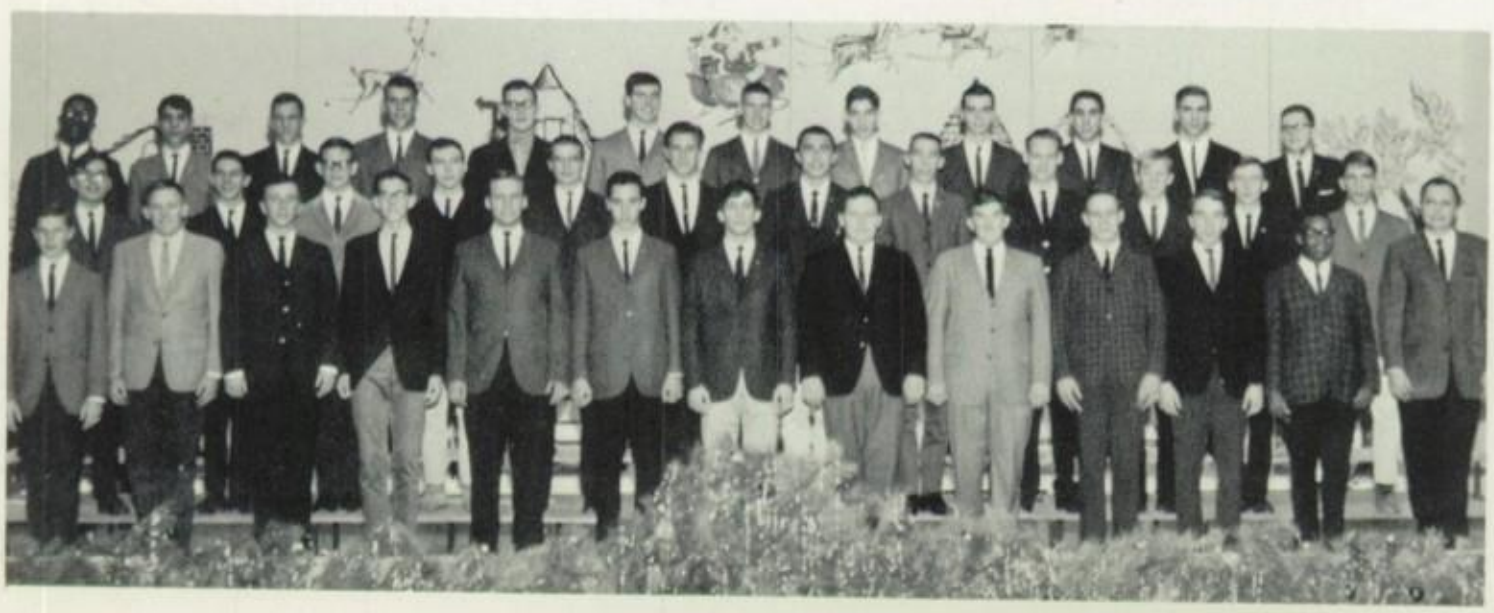
Chorus is an in-school activity which is open for membership to all interested students. There is no previous musical training necessary and auditions are not required. Directed by Mr. James Lauffer, the Chorus prepares music of different varieties and performs in three concerts during the year.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Lauffer, provides an opportunity for those girls who do not sing with other groups to perform. The group performs at the Mid-Winter Band Concert and the Vocal Concert.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club, also directed by Mr. Lauffer, is a group consisting of any boys with the desire to participate in group singing. The club practices a variety of works and performs for various school concerts and outside groups.



CHOIR

Choir is a major subject which provides the opportunity for the more talented vocalists to study major choral works. Under the direction of Mr. James Lauffer, two major works are prepared each year and presented at the Christmas Concert and the Annual Vocal Concert. The choir also participates in the Spring Music and Art Festival, the Pops Concert, Baccalaureate, and Graduation. Officers include: Wayne Sheppard, president; Robert Cormie, vice-president; and Annelle Darby, secretary.

MARCHING BAND

John Lucas
Drum Major

Mr. Lloyd Snyder directs the Marching Band, which is a voluntary unit meeting three times a week during the football season to practise for marching performances at all football games. Their marching music and uniforms add sparkle and spirit to these events. Letters are awarded at the end of football season.

CLASS HISTORY '65

Even before our entrance into the halls of Ewing High, we already had the distinction of being the largest class in Ewing Township history, and the second to be divided between the two junior high schools. Our boisterous arrival four-hundred thirty-five strong, created a severe overcrowding problem for the school; therefore, we were greeted by the buzz and clatter of busy workmen, as well as by the lofty tolerance of upperclassmen.

Under the direction of Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Berrien, we drafted our Class Constitution and plunged into the frenzy of campaigning. When speeches, posters, and politicking were concluded, Pete Gill was our sophomore class president, vice-president, Bob Nardoni; recording secretary, Jill Angelini; corresponding secretary, Suzy Zoda; historian, Carolyn Gill; and parliamentarian, Jim Lawrence. Our first class council meetings were concerned with the sale and consumption of those delectable morsels, Katydids. They enabled us to enrich our treasury by the sum of $680.00.

Fisher and Antheil factions quickly disappeared as we became immersed in clubs and sports throughout the year. The All-School Play in March gave Jill Angelini, Claudia Engelman, Eileen Hanft, and Mark Jones the opportunity to employ their Thespian talents. "The Desk Set" was shortly followed by our famous (infamous?) Sophomore Hop. Chairmen of various committees were Claudia Engelman, Nancy Patterson, Barbara Menard, and Roni Schwartz. The committee set the mood for "Blue Hawaii", aided by The Ruby Teens. Who can forget Nancy Patterson's atmospheric palm trees? With our junior year approaching, we prepared to elect our junior class officers who were: Frank Vizzini, president; Jim Lawrence, vice-president; Jill Angelini, recording secretary; JoAnn Kish, corresponding secretary; Mike Suffness, treasurer; Frank Flacks, publicity chairman; and Carolyn Gill, historian. Another campaign, meanwhile, resulted in the election of Pete Gill as Student Council president for an all-senior cabinet.

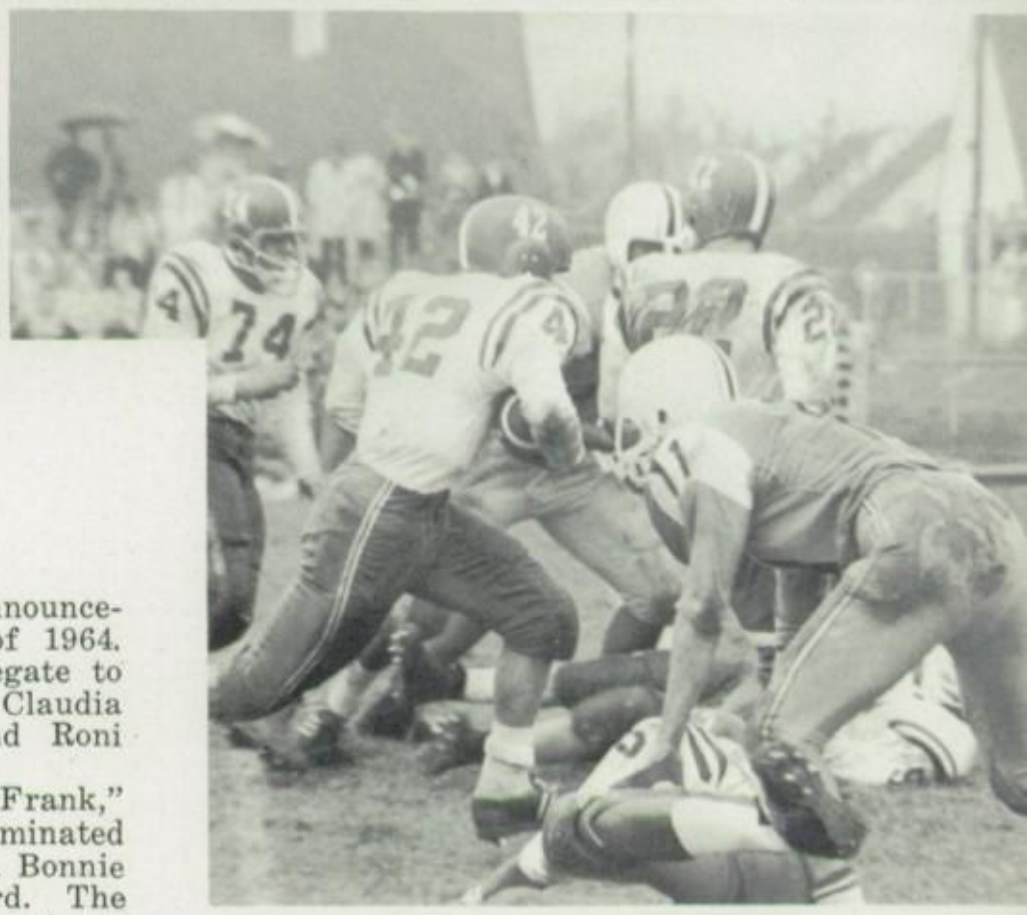
Our junior year began with comparative calm since construction work was, at last, finished. Along with the new and improved school facilities, a wide array of sports was offered to us. The traditional Junior Magazine Drive soon increased the tempo of the school, however, as homerooms and individuals competed to fill our treasury and earn certificates, bobble-headed football players, pins, and other prizes. Art McTighe was the pacesetter for the class, selling $302.46 worth of subscriptions. He was followed by Barry Ashmen and Carolyn Gill, while the top salesmen of Homeroom 221 were treated to all the ice cream they could eat. All these sales contributed to a record-breaking $9,100.00, the largest amount earned by any class in Ewing's history.

With the advent of Junior Prom-itis, Mr. Robert Sell became an additional class adviser, replacing Mrs. Berrien. The theme of "Mardi Gras" was carried out by numerous committees under the direction of Sue Hazel and Larry Hough. Although exams threatened less than a week away, the night of January 17 was still a memorable one for all.

The new year brought the realization that we were fast approaching the enviable position of seniors. Our class rings, which arrived in February amid a flurry of excitement, confirmed this growing awareness.



The suspense mounted in early spring prior to the announcement of our Student Ambassador for the summer of 1964. Frank Vizzini was chosen for this position as a delegate to Holland. The other finalists for this position were Claudia Engelman, alternate; Jill Angelini, Terri Cader, and Roni Schwartz.

Ewing's third All-School Play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," premiered on April 27 and 28. The ten-role cast was dominated by juniors, including Claudia Engelman, Bob Cartlidge, Bonnie Jacobs, Gene Hall, Lois Light, and Wayne Sheppard. The production was considerably enhanced by the "intestinal fortitude" of Bob Cartlidge, who played Mr. Frank while suffering from acute appendicitis.

With summer rapidly approaching, the delegates and alternates to New Jersey Girls' and Boys' State were announced in April.

Spring elections for our final year at Ewing resulted in the following officers: Frank Vizzini, president; Jim Lawrence, vice-president; JoAnn Kish, recording secretary; Debbie Kriegner, corresponding secretary; Bob Cartlidge, treasurer; Bob Nardoni, publicity chairman; and Carolyn Gill, historian for the third consecutive year. In addition, five out of six Student Council positions were filled by members of the Class of 1965. Pete Gill was again voted in as president, with Jill Angelini, recording secretary; Annelle Darby, corresponding secretary; Mike Suffness, treasurer; and Sue Hazel, publicity chairman.

In addition to the pride we felt at being seniors, our final year brought an avalanche of term papers, test, SAT tests, college applications, job interviews, and frenzied plans for the future. Busily we engaged ourselves as club leaders and sports enthusiasts (especially cheering our cross-country team to Ewing's first undefeated season).

As we wearily surmounted the hurdle of mid-year exams, drama enthusiasts plunged into preparation for "Stage Door," the All-School Play. Bonnie Jacobs headed a mammoth cast including numerous seniors. The final performance on March 20 was also marked by the stellar display of the Forensic Club at its district competition. Gene Hall and David Cohan, among the five trophy winners, earned the right to attend the national competition during the summer of 1965.

Eager with excitement and burdened with overwork, we enthusiastically awaited the end of March and our Senior Trip. Although it didn't really offer anyone a "rest," the three days of Washington Madness were a vital part of our quickly-ending senior year. On Friday, April 2, three-hundred ten foot-sore, fatigued tourists limped home from Penn Station after an indescribable experience.

Suddenly graduation was almost upon us. Students' Day, the end of our sports participation at Ewing, and our memorable Senior Prom, "Some Enchanted Evening," are faded into the past. With the message of Baccalaureate ringing in our ears, we marched down the courtyard of Ewing High School at graduation. Our kaleidoscope of fun, frolic, frustration, and friends had all too rapidly drawn to a close. Now we must each face the spectrum of the future, with its new patterns and new images, with the kaleidoscope of our high school years a whirling colorful memory.

MARDI

GRAS

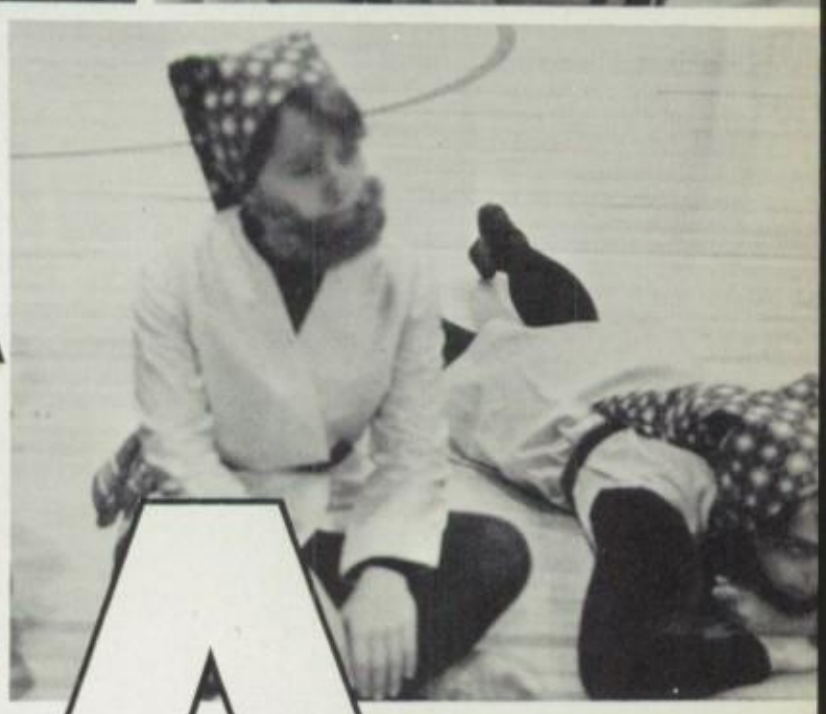
Mardi Gras was transported from New Orleans to Ewing High's gymnasium on January 17, 1964, and the Class of 65's Junior Prom was under way. The couples twirled in a gayly decorated square to the music of Rus Radice and his band. Those not dancing sat under multicolored canopies designed in the style of those of New Orleans' cafes. The background for the bandstand was a huge pink and red crown outlined with paper roses. Refreshments, including punch and cookies, were served under the streamers of a miniature carousel. The dance lasted from nine P. M. to one P. M. All the happy couples departed, filled with wonderful memories of an unforgettable evening, leaving the Mardi Gras dark and empty.

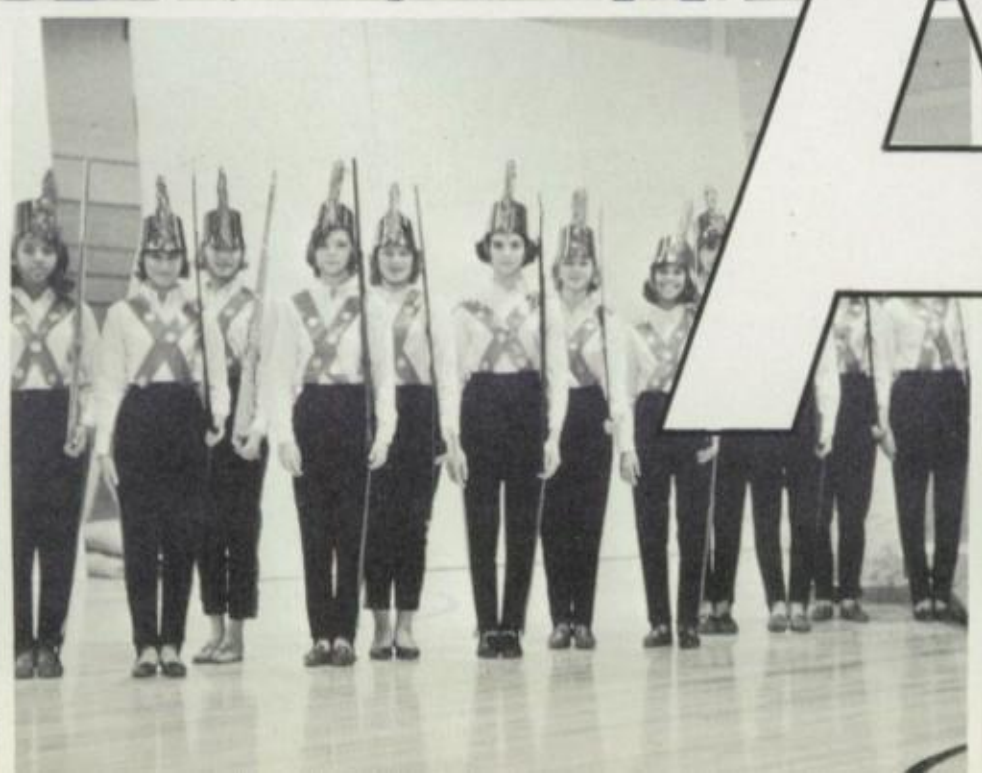
SOPH

The theme of the first big dance of our high school career was "Blue Hawaii" and was appropriately carried out with palm trees, leis, and our own little grass shack. The dance was held in the cafeteria and started at 8 P.M. and ended at 11 P.M. The couples swayed to the music of Ewing's own Paul Piscopo and his band and were further entertained by the voice of Eric Johnson, Class of '63.

HOP

GAA





Ewing's Annual Art Show was presented on Sunday, March 29, 1965. Visitors were greeted by a myriad of paintings and sculptures by the school's fine artists. Pictures were hung all over the walls of the gym area and the sculptures were displayed on various tables. Guide books to the Art Show were given to help visitors on their tour.

On the same day as the Art Show, Ewing's Music Department presented their traditional Music Festival. Various selections were played by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Snyder, and the choir, with Mr. Lauffer as director, sang a medley of tunes. This fine musical show coupled with the art exhibits completed a truly cultural afternoon.

SENIOR

March thirty-first finally arrived and Penn Station seethed with the activity of three-hundred ten Ewing High seniors as they prepared to embark on their long awaited Senior Trip to Washington. Amid the piled baggage, the excitement was high. When the train finally pulled in, we were shown the five cars in which we would ride. Following the announcement, there was a mad crush to get seats with a resulting jam of luggage and people at all entrances. Once on the train, no one was satisfied with their seats and there was a mass immigration from one car to another.

Who will forget trying to walk from one swaying car to another while trying to keep your balance? The train arrived at Baltimore station around 10 AM and there was another rush to get seats on the waiting buses. From there, we traveled to Annapolis, for an unguided tour of the grounds. Included in the sights were the Naval chapel, the beautiful crypt of John Paul Jones, and, of course, the midshipmen. The souvenir shop outside the academy did a thriving business in naval T-shirts and sweat-shirts—didn't they girls? The buses finally pulled out, late as usual, and we were on our way to the Capitol Building and the traditional class picture. After the picture, we took a tour of the capitol including the House and Senate chambers and then we were free to tour the Library of Congress and the Supreme Court building. At 4 PM everyone was honored by a visit with Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey, on the steps of the Capitol.

TRIP

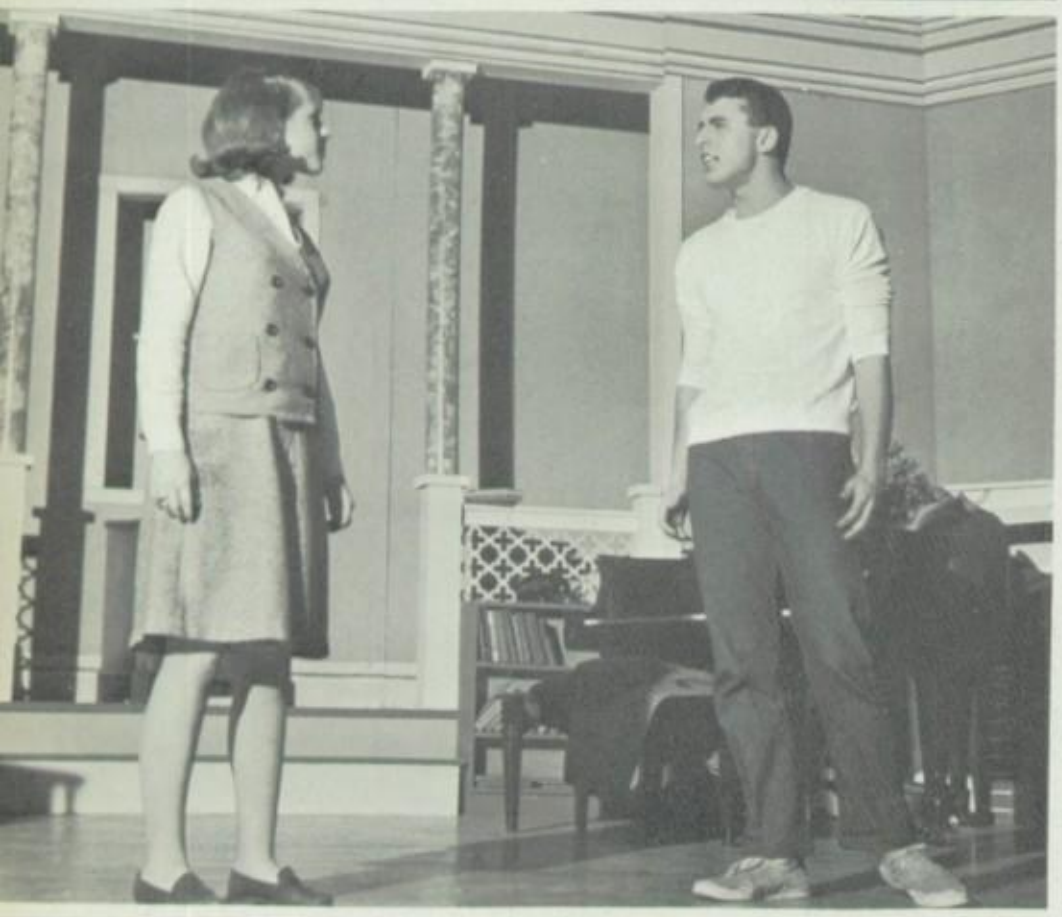
After a full day of touring, resulting in tired feet and short tempers, we arrived at the Marriott Motor Hotel. Everyone was assigned rooms and given about half an hour to dress for dinner and the movie or theater. The dinner was quite good. Then forty-eight of the students left for the National Theater to see Gertrude Berg in "Dear Me, The Sky is Falling." The others went to see the "Greatest Story Ever Told," which lasted about five hours. Although tired, we all managed to stay up to the horrible hours of 3 AM and 4 AM.

After breakfast the next morning the group was divided into two sections, A and B. Group A toured the FBI, the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Washington Cathedral, and embassy row in the morning, and, in the afternoon, the Smithsonian Institute. Group B went to Mt. Vernon and Arlington Cemetery in the morning. At Arlington we saw the statue of Iwo Jima, and witnessed the changing of the guard.

Then a memorial wreath, from all the Ewing students, was placed on John Kennedy's grave. From there we lunched at the Hot Shoppe and proceeded to tour the White House, the Washington Monument, and the Jefferson and Lincoln Memorials. I wonder if those people who decided to climb the eight-hundred ninety-eight steps at the Washington Monument ever regretted it? After another full day, both groups arrived at the motel at 4 PM and were given a few hours of welcome rest. Dinner was served at 6:30 PM and after dinner, everyone changed into levi's, slacks, and sweat-shirts to witness the annual student-teacher talent show. Highlighted in the student group; were Leo Jas and hula, and Linda Burroughs and Debbie Kriegner with song parodies on the teachers.

STAGE

Ewing High's annual All School Play "Stage Door" was presented on March 19 and 20. Under the direction of Mr. Maloney and Mrs. Boehme, the play concerned itself with the affairs of aspiring young actresses in a boarding house in New



DOOR

York City. The cast contained no less than eighteen girls. The lead girl, Terry, was played by Bonnie Jacobs. Bob Cartlidge and Steve Picco assumed the title male roles. As usual, the play was excellent and was enjoyed by everyone.

THIS
HOUR

. . . . . Culminating a period in your life you will always want to remember. As your official photographer, we feel elated to have been able to document this cherished era with photographs pulsating the very life you lived - the very thoughts you spread - the very feeling you so warmly and sincerely shared. This reality though captured in a split second will be an everlasting record for posterity.

The future holds many events for you that you will want to remember - Please feel free to call upon us for all of your photographic needs.

Talked to San Francisco lately? Or Miami Beach? Las Vegas? HOLLYWOOD?

Sound interesting? It is—for the many operators at New Jersey Bell who talk to folks from one end of the country to another, all in a day's work. And it's an important day's work—it puts you on speaking terms with the whole wide world!

That's one reason why so many girls like being telephone operators. Of course, they like the good starting pay and rapid advancement, too. And there are regular raises. Pleasant surroundings. And friendly people to work with.

Your school's Vocational Guidance Counselor can tell you all about an exciting career as an operator—or the many other interesting careers offered by the Telephone Company.
